Proceeding under the Class Proceedings Act, 1992

AFFIDAVIT OF TERRY BARTMAN
(Sworn October 28, 2021)

I, Terry Bartman, of the City of Medicine Hat, in the Province of Alberta, MAKE OATH AND SAY:

1. My son, Brett Bartman, played in the Western Hockey League (the WHL) for the Spokane Chiefs from 2007 to 2010. In addition, I have been involved in amateur hockey in various capacities throughout my entire life. I also owned a construction company in Medicine Hat.
2. I know about the matters in this affidavit. If I have made statements of my information and belief, the source of the information and the fact of the belief are specified in this affidavit.

My Experience with Amateur Hockey

3. I grew up in Medicine Hat and started playing hockey at age 6. I played up to the Junior B level, where I played for the Medicine Hat Cubs in the Alberta Junior B Hockey League.
4. Starting in the 1980s, I volunteered as a coach in the Medicine Hat Minor Hockey Association. I coached Brett in this league from 1995 (when he was 6) until he was 14. In addition, when my friend Tim Speltz became the General Manager of the Chiefs in 1990, he recruited me as a player scout for the Chiefs. I worked as a scout for the Chiefs for 30 years. As a scout, I was not paid a salary, but my disbursements were reimbursed.

My Experience with Hazing in Hockey

5. In my experience as a player, a coach, a scout and the parent of a player, I have never encountered or heard of abusive hazing. Until learning about this lawsuit, I had never heard of the “hot box”, the “rookie rocket”, or the “elephant walk”, or any other physically or sexually abusive hazing.

6. The plaintiffs state that abusive hazing was widespread in the WHL, including during Brett's time in the league, and that there was a culture of abuse. I am surprised by those statements.

7. I can only speak in any detail about the Chiefs, because that was the only WHL team I was involved with. The conduct described by the plaintiffs is inconsistent with what I understand of the player experience with the Chiefs organization. I was thrilled when my son joined the Chiefs, despite having to move hundreds of miles away from home to do so. I knew from my previous work as a scout for the team that the Chiefs had a supportive and respectful culture, including toward rookies. If I thought that Brett would be joining a team with the sort of culture the plaintiffs describe, I would have never encouraged (or allowed) him to play for the Chiefs.

8. The only differential treatment Brett ever mentioned experiencing as a rookie with the Chiefs was having to do basic chores for the team, like cleaning up after practice. This resembled my experience in amateur hockey as a coach, parent and player. But I would not have called this "hazing". Rather, it is like "earning stripes", "climbing the ladder", or gaining experience in any organization. Less experienced workers in my construction company, for example, start with a shovel, not by building cabinets.

9. In my opinion, Brett's experience playing with the Chiefs had an enormously positive effect on his life. On top of getting the opportunity to play at the highest level of amateur hockey, he also grew as a person. Before playing for the Chiefs, Brett was not that interested in academics, and had suggested that he did not intend to pursue a post-secondary education. But after his time with the Chiefs, Brett attended the University of Calgary and graduated with a degree in Kinesiology. In my opinion, Brett's academic success is his biggest accomplishment.

10. Brett's change in view toward education resulted from the Chiefs' leadership, which placed a significant emphasis on education. For example, the captains of the Chiefs during Brett's rookie and second year with the team were Chris Bruton and Justin McCrae, respectively. Chris and Justin were excellent mentors to Brett, and both encouraged Brett to consider going to university after his major junior career. Likewise, Bill Peters, the head coach of the Chiefs, mentored Brett about the value of a university degree. Justin Falk, a veteran player on the Chiefs during Brett's time with the team and another notable mentor for Brett, set a great example of commitment to both hockey and education for the rookies. The Chiefs valued balance and success on multiple fronts. Differential treatment of rookies was not part of this agenda.

11. The interest that the leaders on the Chiefs had in Brett's future as a person, not just as a hockey player, is in my opinion impossible to reconcile with the sort of atmosphere described by the plaintiffs.

SWORN by Terry Bartman of the City of Medicine Hat, in the Province of Alberta, before me at the City of Toronto, in the Province of Ontario, on October 28, 2021 in accordance with O. Reg. 431/20, Administering Oath or Declaration Remotely.
